500-word Exchange Feedback with photos

This is my first long-term exchange abroad. And it's the first time that I've been away from home for this long. At first, I was worried if I would be homesick. But when it comes to actually living, the fact that I meet new things every day makes it a lot of fun. both in terms of making new friends, food, and lifestyle. My first impression upon arriving at the university was that it was a very large university and had a very good lecture. I like that the university has a lot of lawns and trees, which make the atmosphere pleasant. In the evening, I like to walk or ride a bike around campus. The university dorm is clean. Although it's not the same as what the university used to send to see, the cost of laundry in the college dormitory is so cheap that I saved a lot of money. It's also the first time I've lived in a university dorm, giving me the opportunity to meet a roommate. She's Korean. She's so cute. We always buy snacks to share and exchange cultures such as songs, series, and singers. The classrooms here are clean, fully equipped, and functional. All teachers are kind. Keep asking, "How are you studying?" And I like that the university has a U-bike in the university. makes it easy to travel anywhere, both on campus and outside. Despite the fact that it is difficult to find bicycles in front of the dormitory in the morning due to its popularity. There is a bus stop in front of the university, making traveling convenient and inexpensive. You can check the timetable of the bus, making it easier to set my schedule. Another thing I like is that the weather in Kaohsiung is very good. particularly in the evening until late at night. Because I come from Thailand, where the weather is quite hot even at night. Also, I have lost my card many times. But every time someone picks it back up, it always impresses me.

The university has organized many activities and has a buddy to help get to know more people. made many friends from other countries. My buddy took me to many places in Kaohsiung, including Tainan and Pingtung, giving me advice on food and places to visit. Speak Chinese with me so that I can practice Chinese. She is the one who suggests foods and restaurants that one must try because she knows how much I enjoy trying new foods. Even though I returned to Thailand, she kept in touch with me. And I went to New Year's Eve in Taipei; it was a very good experience, even though the weather was not good; it rained all day. I was able to visit a variety of locations. went to see the fireworks at Taipei 101. It's much more beautiful than I thought. This exchange made me obstinate; it gave me the freedom to do my own thing.
